Anti-Egalitarianism doesn't stop within Europe

Unlike a lot of the other critiques I make of the modern NS movement, this one didn't appear online in the 2010's. This has been a constant trend in the wake of WW2, & arguably earlier. A key component within racism, racialism, race realism or whatever else you want to call it is that the Egalitarian attitudes towards race are inherently flawed because of the inherent differences between races. What people today like to ignore is that this research - which was most noteworthy in the 19th & early 20th centuries - wasn't directed at blacks or orientals. If you would've told them that blacks & whites are inherently different, they would say something to the effect of "No shit, dumbass." Breaking down racial classifications on such a grand scale is purely an invention of the political establishment of the post-war era, based on politics & not any newly understood scientific or historical facts.

Rather, the study of these people were directed at understanding the difference between otherwise similar nations - mainly within Europe. The results of this study were fairly uncontroversial at the time. The peoples of Northwest Europe are the creators & bearers of culture in the world. From the glaciers of Scandinavia to the fields of Wessex, the people of these lands were distinguished as particularly special in regards to Slavs, Mediterraneans, Celts, etc. The negros weren't worth even questioning. In those days, this science was based off of things like anthropology and phrenology. Physically observable things. Modern genetics research has further confirmed this grouping as the NWE peoples all cluster extremely close.

From: The Anglo-Saxon migration and the formation of the early English gene pool, Gretzinger et al. (2022) - doi.org/10.1038/s41586-022-05247-2

Published and novel ancient individuals (colored) projected onto present-day individuals from northwestern Europe (in grey). Black arrows point to the location of the modern European ethnic groups within the PCA. Modified from Figure 2 of this study in order to better demonstrate the relation between both the ancient and modern groups. This proves that the modern English gene pool is a mix of indigenous Celtic Briton and Germanic Anglo-Saxon.

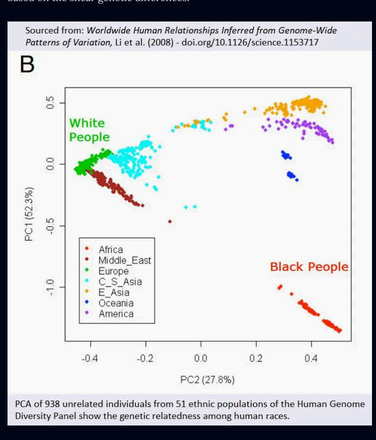

To those that are into history, this isn't surprising. For all the glory of Rome, they never conquered more than a small slice of Germania in their whole history. As Rome decayed, the Germani would conquer virtually all of Western Europe - at that time known as the Goths. Anywhere that didn't become outright Germanic would be ruled by a Germanic aristocracy. Germanic tribes known as the Anglos, Saxons & Jutes would continue their eternal war against the Celts & Romans when they conquered Britannia. The only reason Celts still exist on the British Isles is because another Germanic tribe crossed the channel & beat the Anglo-Saxons at Hastings.

Time has distinguished these Germanic tribes. The Franks are now French. Anglo-Saxons are the English. Northmen are the Scandinavians. Et cetera. But all these tribes remain genetically very close. The Anglo in Oregon is practically a cousin of the Prussian in Dresden. This family of Germania would form the civilization we know as the West. Whether as pagan war bands or under the banner of the Holy Roman Empire. The Anglos would continue their seafaring & conquest traditions - eventually owning a quarter of the planet & founding the modern United States, Canada, Australia, etc. The Celts continued their war with the tribes of Germania, but relegated to the northern section of Ireland. Rome & Greece have never recovered from their Classical Era collapses, which I'll touch on later.

I'm sure it requires no explanation that the geographic location of NWE, & the Germanic blood that inhabits it, has been the driver of civilization for well over a millennia & continues to be so. What started with the German aristocracy continued with the British Empire & later with the global U.S. hegemony. This is White proper. This is the Great Race that men like Madison Grant wrote about. The racial policies of the NSDAP were based upon this, not because they invented it to bolster their nationalism, but because it was well established science throughout the Occident. Much like other things relating to race, Nordicism was never disproven in any way. It was simply made off limits because of the big evil Nazis were so mean to the pore old Jews & Slavs!

So why has Nordicism been seemingly abandoned by not only the Right at large, but even so-called National Socialists? The first answer is that a lot of modern racial politics are based on vague notions generally invented by the US legal system. Our people have allowed our enemies to define race in the purely simplistic terms of skin color. Given that true racial & genetic science is heavily censored & taboo in the modern day, many people simply aren't actually educated on it beyond more modern works like The Bell Curve. For what it's worth, the "races" of today are better characterized as subspecies' based on the shear genetic differences.

Sourced from: Worldwide Human Relationships Inferred from Genome-Wide Patterns of Variation, Li et al. (2008) - doi.org/10.1126/science.1153717

PCA of 938 unrelated individuals from 51 ethnic populations of the Human Genome Diversity Panel show the genetic relatedness among human races.

Secondly, the most common defense for this overly inclusive approach is that the White population is too small & in too much danger to worry about relatively minor differences in ethnicity. This argument is generally fair. While the non-Germanic peoples may not be on the top of the ladder, they're certainly not enemies & are generally considered to be of Aryan or otherwise PIE decent. However, this isn't a reason to abandon the truth. The racialists of old didn't view the Irish in the same way they viewed blacks, contrary to what pop historians will erroneously or maliciously try to claim. The WASPs viewed the Irish a thousand times more favorably than a negro or chink, while still recognizing their inherent racial closeness. It's not a dichotomy, you can have both.

The main reason this issue is important is due to miscegenation. As with all things, when a good & bad thing mix, the outcome trends towards the bad. If you are if NWE stock & marry a Slav, the outcome will be a Slav. Same with other European ethnicities. Saving the race as a whole is important - preserving it's highest caste is equally important.

"We Wuz Romans!!"

Only 2 types of people make this argument, with the implication that Mediterraneans are superior to the Germanics due to Classical Era Greece & the Roman Empire being more advanced than the relatively 'uncivilized' Germania of the time. Those types are Italians & Catholics, obviously they overlap. I won't bother with the Catholics as their RomeLARP is borderline pathological. For the Italiaryans, this argument makes sense on paper. The issue is that modern Italians don't hold up to their ancestors of the Empire as one might assume. For starters, the Latin & Sabine peoples were both of Northern Italy. Northerners were & are far more genetically related to Central & Northern Europeans than their compatriots down south. Turkic & Middle Eastern influence on modern Greece & Italy is controversial, so I won't make any claims that the OG Greeks were Germanics or that modern Meds are some mutt race (except Spaniards, they absolutely are). What is known is that Ancient Greece didn't survive exceedingly long & has never even begun to approach its old glory. Orthobros can whine all they want, but their whole religious sect is about as relevant as modern Greeks - so it's of no concern.

Italy, on the other hand, briefly regained its leadership role in Europe with the Renaissance. This, as Sectionalisms recent article points out, mainly driven by those same Northern Italians. The Renaissance, although very influential to the Occident, would come to an end. The vast cultural change started in the Renaissance would continue via the Prot Revolution, Industrial Revolution, etc. All of which took place predominantly in NW Europe. Mussolini would attempt to style himself as a Caesar, but Italy largely failed at fully implementing Fascist ideology & when the signs of struggle came, the NFP would surrender (with the South of Italy as a whole) to the Allies while Northern Italy, with the most fanatical supporters of Il Duce, would fight on as the Italian Social Republic. The Italian Social Republic was far more representative of Hitler's ideas than of the by now lukewarm & moderate NFP.

Now, I feel it is extremely important to point out that I am not against the Romans or Greeks. They are Aryan, they are not our Volk per se, but kindred nonetheless. I highly admire the great men of the Mediterranean, especially Julius Caesar who was basically a god to the younger me. I also think very admirably about the high cultures of these peoples. Anyone who says Italians or other Meds aren't White is misinformed at best & subversive at worst. Except maybe Sicilians. And Moorish descended Spaniards.

Obviously, the existence of these great cultures of old isn't alone what Meds point to for their superiority complex. Their argument is that while Meds were creating great city states, empires, and various forms of high culture, the Germanics remained barbaric & undeveloped. Understandings of both genetics & human geography generally do away with any potency in this argument. Firstly, we are well aware that humanity, to include our mental facilities, has changed very little over the past several thousands of years. Evolution simply doesn't move that fast. If you took Julius Caesar & placed him in [CURRENT YEAR], he would likely just need a a crash course in history & some other classes to catch up. Otherwise, he would likely be able to comprehend modern technology & philosophy quite well. He'd probably hate it, but he wouldn't be lost. Just like how a medieval child would probably deal with a Dorito quite mundanely. The Germanics of 2000 years ago would be genetically almost identical to the Germanics of today - meaning they had similar IQ, cultural undercurrents, etc.

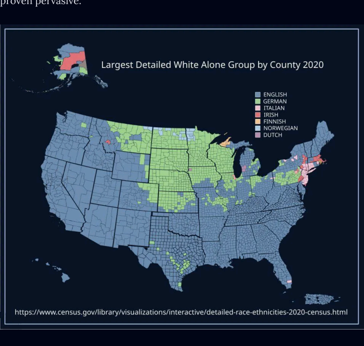

Secondly, Greek & Roman civilization generally built off of earlier civilizations. This isn't meant to disparage their achievements, but things like technology & civilization tend to build off of themselves over time. The Germanics were quite a distance from the "birthplace of civilization" around the Euphrates & gradually spread north. The cultures that would eventually become Greece & Rome were very close to these earlier civilizations that they were in contact with via Anatolia & the Mediterranean for some time prior to the Bronze Age Collapse. Another important point is that the Mediterranean region is generally better suited for developing large scale civilizations, at least at the time. Division of labor is a very real concept; the cold forests of Scandinavia & Germania as a whole are not ideal for forming large farms. This is why the Germanics of the day were generally more so focused on livestock trade & small, localized farms rather than the grand trade system of Rome. They used a barter system because a monetary system had not yet become necessary.

I'll be honest, this kind of went off on a tangent. I didn't intend this section to end up so long. Especially as none of this is very new or unknown to people with a fairly basic knowledge of history. I <3 my Med friends.

The Amerikaners Aren't Mutts

Ethnic nationalism is generally more easily understood by Europeans in the homeland, the Pan-European sentiments generally resemble something akin the current European Union - a confederation rather than some giant singular nation.

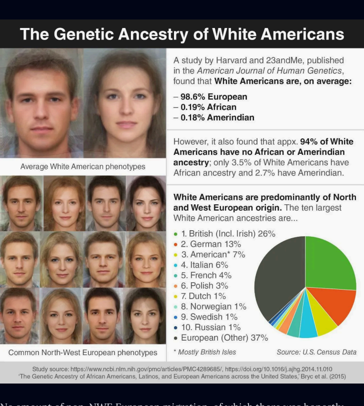

The insistence on abandoning ethnic pride for a more generalized White identity is overwhelming a US phenomenon, I have also heard it from Canadians before but very rarely. Indeed, it seems almost ubiquitous among the US movement to characterize the White portion of the population as a whole - which may be a good thing in the sense of building a united front. But alas, the Amerimutt notion is mostly a myth. The Jewish "melting pot" lie has proven pervasive.

In reality, America is nothing less than an extension of the Anglo-Saxon war band that crossed the sea, first in the Isles & later the Atlantic. Most people are already familiar that America was always intended to be a WASP nation. The revolutionaries considered themselves English until war was declared outright. Much effort was put into preserving this WASP homogeneity, although the US population was generally unconcerned with Irish migration, as well as other NW European migrants, due to their similarities. It should be noted that the common notion of Irish-Americans being Catholic is surprisingly untrue - only about a third identify as Catholic while about half identify as Protestant. The majority of Irishmen who migrated before the 1840's were a Prot background & fit in rather well with the native WASPs. The Catholic Irishmen, of generally lower class background, were the real issue. During the Mexican-American War, some 200 hundred Catholics, predominantly Irishmen, defected to the Mexicans due to their shared faith. In an age where Christianity still had some fangs, you can see how these migrants presented a problem. Regardless, the Irish overwhelmingly stuck to their own neighborhoods & are generally a community of their own.

The only other major European ethnic group is the Italians, mainly those who arrived from Southern Italy & Sicily at the turn of the 20th century. Not much needs to be said about the Italians, the US got generally the lowest caste of them & used them unskilled labors. They would be best known as criminals, forming mafias like the other Catholic minorities & Jews. Italian migration at this time generally looks pretty similar to the Mexican migration of a few decades ago. Regardless, Italian ancestry is fairly rare outside of the immediate area around Ellis Island.

As I said earlier, White America is overwhelmingly NW European - i.e. Germanic.

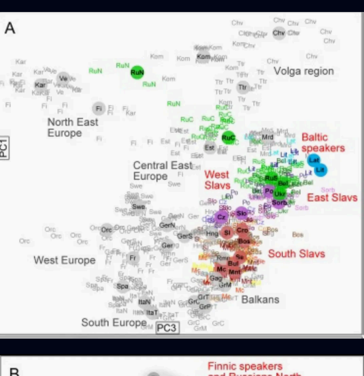

No amount of non-NWE European migration, of which there was honestly very little, has ever drowned out the founding stock WASP population. The Irish admixture is fairly common, but Celts are so closely related to Germanics it's almost negligible even up to 25% (see the first graph in this article, the difference between the Celts of the British Isles & proper Germanics is barely discernible from the difference between Scandinavian populations & Germanics.) It should also be noted that Celtic & Germanic peoples are extremely closely related, even compared to other Germanic ethnicities.

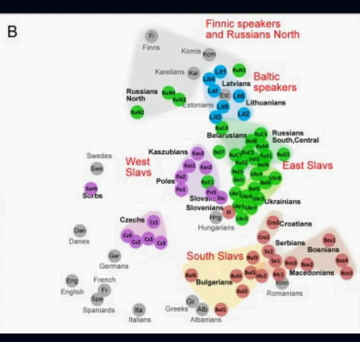

The claim that there's no point claiming specific ethnic roots as American WNs is entirely baseless, we're essentially the same ethnicity today as the founding stock Saxons that crossed the Atlantic & the our Volk in Germania proper. The same goes for Canada, Australia, New Zealand, & I'm pretty sure almost all Afrikaner. We should not deny our blood, nor should we take half measures based on the lies of our enemies. White America is inseparable from NWE roots.

Anti-White? Nein.

A key takeaway for anyone looking into the science of race before it was censored is that none of these Nordicists saw the other Aryan races in a light even remotely resembling how the saw blacks, Jews, etc. There are definite differences between the various inheritors of the Aryan race, but they're ultimately still seen as racial comrades. Not excluded like people erroneously claim. The Irish were never considered non-White, nor the Balts or Italians. They were simply subgroups. This is reflected in the harsh racial policies of the Third Reich. The only Aryan subgroup to be considered a total 'other' is the Slavs, and the praxis of German actions in Eastern Europe show that the Slavic Üntermensch was not nearly as disliked as Jews. The fact that an entire Waffen-SS Division was composed of Ukrainians is a testament to this, and it quickly becomes clear that the Reich had a lot more nuance when it came to dealing with the Slavs than post-war academics would lead you to believe.

That being said, I don't think too highly of Slavs. They've never really accomplished anything notable without the leadership of a German Aristocracy or Jewish oligarchy. The Slavs generally seem like a people to be led, rather than the creators. They are also fairly genetically distant from other European ethnicities.

Graphs taken from: https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/26332464/

Note: This study is specifically on Slavic peoples, which is why the other ethnic groups are seemingly downplayed & generalized - they are not the focus.

Arminius of Today

Now that it's established that the crème of the crop of the White race is the Germanics of NWE, I feel the future of White Nationalism should trend towards unifying these tribes. Just Arminius did in the bloody forests of Teutoberg two millennia ago. In contrast to the bulk of WN thought nowadays, including NS, I don't believe that humans can maintain any sort of identity using the current flimsy definitions of race. Ethnicity is the upper limit, once you go past that things get far too muddy. The abandonment of Anglo-Saxonist/Germanicist/Nordicist views also present a unique danger as men of otherwise good stock & character will intermix with lesser ethnicities.Not out of any character failing on his part, but purely because he's been taught the misconception that all Whites are equal. A fully intermixed White race would be little different than a Europe inhabited by Slavs. Without the creators, the White race as a whole will be without its leadership caste.

Without it, the rest have no hope.

It took a great deal of effort to unite the individualistic & freedom loving Germanics at every step. Arminius faced great difficulties, as did Clovis I & Charlemagne. Perhaps an unintentional good outcome of the defeats in the World Wars is that the cultural separation between The tribes of Germania proper & the more Liberalized Franks & Saxons was washed away. All Germanic nations from Amerika to Oceania to Scandinavia are more or less on the same level now. Perhaps the destruction of all these differences were necessary to the eventual unity.

"Until now, in racial politics and popular discourse, the blood of all peoples inhabiting Europe has been defined as related. This means, for example, that Poles, Russians, Magyars or Portuguese are also related (artverwandt) with Germanic blood , just like the Germanic peoples. This position is based on the false assumption that the racial structure of all European peoples is so closely related to the racial structure of the German people that, in case of mixing, there is no danger of racial deterioration in the blood of the German people. However, this is not the case. The danger of racial mixing threatens the German people not only because of any foreign races (artfremden Rassen), but also through mixing with the blood of non-tribal peoples (nichtstammesgleicher) from Europe, ESPECIALLY SLAVS."

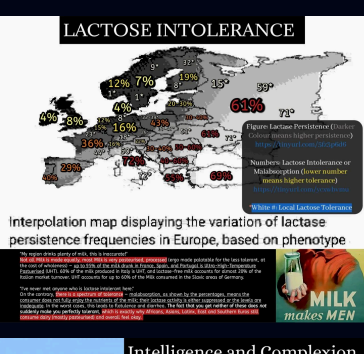

Heinrich Himmler - Änderung Des Begriffes "Artverwandtes Blut, Nr. 70/1 (1942), BArch Nr.70/1, 23.3.42, BA R 58/259 Bl. 295-6.

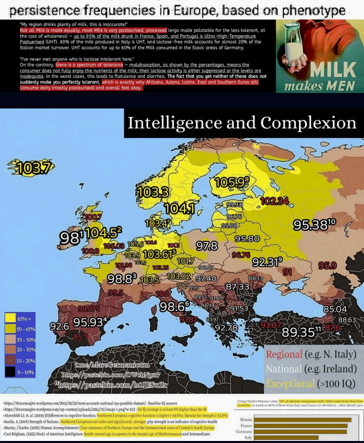

"I am naturally a Nordic - a chalk-white, bulky Teuton of the Scandinavian or North-German forests - a Viking berserk killer - a predatory rover of Hengist and Horsa - a conqueror of Celts and mongrels and founders of Empires - a son of the thunders and the arctic winds, and brother to the frosts and the auroras - a drinker of foemen's blood from new picked skulls - a friend of the mountain buzzards and feeder of seacoast vultures — a blond beast of eternal snows and frozen oceans — a prayer to Odin and Thor and Woden and Alfadur, the raucous shouter of Niffelheim - a comrade of the wolves, and rider of nightmares"

H. P. Lovecraft

"My program for educating youth is hard. Weakness must be hammered away. In my castles of the Teutonic Order a youth will grow up before which the world will tremble. I want a brutal, domineering, fearless, cruel youth. Youth must be all that. It must bear pain. There must be nothing weak and gentle about it. The free, splendid beast of prey must once again flash from its eyes...That is how I will eradicate thousands of years of human domestication...That is how I will create the New Order."

Adolf Hitler

I didn't know where else to put these.

Nordicism is good, but it's important to remember it was Slavic peasants who most commonly revolted and slaughtered Jewish oligarchs, and Jews hate them more than Germans (not that they don't hate Germans, too).

Europe together is key.
